FROM THE EDITORIAL SUITE:

The ideals of development is predicted on supportive developmental laws. This is further hinged on availability of academic resources in the field. The Nigerian Journal of Legal Studies (NJLS) epitomises the instrument of development of academic excellence. In this regard, the board remains proud of its unquelling existence irrespective of all economic odds. The board is grateful to the Vice Chancellor of Imo State University - Prof. Sir U. U. Chukwumaeze, Ph.D, SAN, FCARB for his love for education and in ensuring the continuity of this journal. The board also appreciates the contributions of the Faculty of Law, Imo State University in ensuring the continued existence of the Journal. The board promises to attain the highest academic standard in Legal intellectualism pursuant to the goal of the Journal.

Finally our appreciation goes also to Tertiary Education Trust Fund (TETFUND) for its sponsorship of this volume of our Journal.

Prof. Okorie, Chimezie Kingsley, Ph.D, SAN, FCARB
